

Year 5 Homework

Friday 13th June 2014

Here is your homework for the weekend. It needs to be completed in your homework books and handed in by Wednesday 18th June.

Maths

This week we have been learning about negative numbers. Your homework is to order negative numbers and find the difference between two temperatures. Complete this in your Maths homework book.

English

In English, we have been exploring information leaflets and have written and made our own leaflets. An extended noun phrase adds information before and after the noun. It makes our writing more detailed. For example: The old lady, who lived next door. The spooky house, on the hill.

In your English homework books, write five sentences minimum that include an extended noun phrase.

Forest School

We will have Forest School on Monday. Could you all bring in wellies and your Forest School kit as it may be muddy.

Have a lovely weekend!
